You and your family are now able to experience the joy of colour indoors too. With Full Cover, the entire window is coated in your favourite colour – on the outside and inside. KBE uses this state-of-the-art technology to coat the window profiles on all sides at the factory. This allows you to experience an ambience like never before. Instead of going unnoticed, choose to purposefully highlight white windows with Full Cover and incorporate windows into your ambience.

The entire window profile – on the inside and outside – in the colour of your choice. With proCoverTec, your windows are your favourite colour on all sides.

No matter what the weather brings, proCover keeps your windows looking good and easy to operate for many years to come.

Feel good in any weather

We put a great deal of time and money into research when developing proCoverTec. The result is an attractive surface technology that is also one of the hardest, most robust and most durable ones on the market. proCoverTec optimally protects your window from all exposure to wind and weather, whether it is storms, rain, ice or snow. And the beautiful colours are preserved by the outstanding UV protection. proCoverTec also provides protection against thermal radiation. This means that your windows stay dimensionally stable and easy to use over a prolonged time period. For example, opening and closing without jamming.

Enjoy - Simple, environmentally friendly care

Environmental protection starts with you. And proCoverTec is making this easier than ever for you. The special surface features a kind of lotus effect, which means that dirt cannot adhere to the surface and instead is removed when raindrops roll off the surface.

Care is only required very rarely, if at all. All you need for occasional cleaning is water and a sponge. This means that minor impurities can be removed with ease; neutral soap is all you need, even in extreme cases. In this way, you can play a part in ensuring a cleaner environment.

Paint finishes such as those on wooden windows and colour restoration measures are not necessary. Your premium windows with proCoverTec retain their colour intensity and, even after many years, still look as new and as fresh as they did on the first day. And without any chemicals.

You will love the dirt-repellent, homogeneously tight surface. Dust, pollen and other dirt particles have no chance of adhering to the surface.
